"HOLD-UP" IS CONCURRED IN

COMMON COUNCIL ADOPTS THE O'BOYLE RESOLUTION.

Unsuccessful Effort to Send the Measure to Committee by Commoners Who View It with Suspicion. Mr. Keller Declares It Exists Only Because of a Desire to Hamper the Company—Mr. Calpin Says It Results from the Action of Heads of Departments.

The "hold-up" resolution of Selectman O'Boyle, directing the head of the department of public works to tear up the "cannon ball" railroad company's tracks where they have been laid on the flag end of three "paper" streets in the Twelfth ward was concurred in by common council, last night, after several members, who view the resolution with suspicion, had made an unsuccessful attempt to have it committed.

Mr. Galvin and Mr. Keller led in the opposition to the resolution. Mr. Galvin wanted it sent to committee for investigation. Mr. Keller wanted it killed outright.

If there was anything wrong in the company laying the tracks, Mr. Keller said, it was the recorder's duty to interfere, and the recorder could be relied upon to do his duty without any suggestion from council. To him, the resolution had a suspicious look. "The only reason for its existence, he believed, was to 'hamper' the company. 'It looks as if there was something back of the resolution,'" concluded Mr. Keller in slow, hesitating words, as if he wished something to be inferred that he did not feel licensed to say.

CALPIN FOR RESOLUTION.

Mr. Calpin urged the immediate adoption of the resolution. He was not ready to say that there was not something back of it, but as he understood the situation the resolution was the result of objection on the part of councilmen to the action of the heads of departments in giving the company permission to cross these streets without consulting council.

Mr. Payne, after admitting that he knew nothing about the merits of the case, concurred in Mr. Calpin's views and characterized as "a high-handed piece of business" the action of the heads of departments in arrogating to themselves the supervision of the city's streets.

The motion to refer to committee was lost by the following vote:

Ayes—Messrs. J. J. Evans, Henry, W. W. Evans, E. W. Evans, Albert Lewis, Rianne, Galvin, William Lewis, Keller, Barrett, Robathan—11.

Nays—Calpin, David Evans, Casterline, Haggerty, James, McGreevy, Calpin, Partridge, Paine, Charles Rosar, Sykes, Gurrell, Fuller, Stimp, Metfale, Norton—15.

A motion to concur in the resolution was then adopted without much apparent opposition.

Other resolutions concurred in provide as follows: Directing a special committee to confer with the Scranton Railway company to secure the issuing of transfers between the South side and Bellevue lines; directing the director of public works to repair the damage done by a sewer overflow, to the property of Peter Cummings, on Phelps street, and to report on means of relieving the Pine Brook sewer, so as to prevent overflows; directing the superintendent of the bureau of engineering to give an estimate of the cost of opening Hickory street.

NEW MEASURES.

The following new measures were introduced:

By Mr. Ruane—A resolution providing for the purchase of a city seal. Adopted.

By Mr. Casterline—An ordinance for two electric lights in the Second ward. Referred.

By Albert Lewis—An ordinance vacating the portion of Center street occupied by the tracks of the Diamond branch of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tracks. Referred. A resolution for a crosswalk in front of the Dunkerly property, on Meridian street. Adopted.

By Mr. Paine—An ordinance for the erection of a fire and police department headquarters in the rear of city hall, at a cost of $10,000. Referred.

By Mr. Sykes—An ordinance for flag walks on Washington avenue, between Marion and New York streets. Referred. A resolution directing the Delaware and Hudson company to maintain gates at the Poplar street crossing. Adopted.

By Mr. Norton—An ordinance providing for a second permanent man for the Keyser Valley Hose company. Referred. A resolution directing the Delaware and Hudson company to maintain gates at the Poplar street crossing. Adopted.

ON TWO READINGS.

Other ordinances passed on first and second readings provide for the opening of Wayne and Monsey avenues; the improvement of Bloom avenue culvert; two sewer basins at the corner of Jackson street and Rebecca avenue.

The ordinance imposing taxes for 1902, and providing for the construction of Section 9 of the Seventeenth district sewer in the Twelfth and Nineteenth wards, passed third reading.

The following ordinances were favorably reported from committees: Providing for flag walks on Washington street, between Luzerne and Division streets, and Jackson street, between Main avenue and the Keyser creek; providing for street signs, and accepting West Park.

Chairman Paine announced at the meeting that the common council will appropriate the number of common councilmen for each ward, will assemble at city hall, Saturday, July 19.

KILLED BY AN ELEVATOR.

Sad Accident to Young Son of Editor P. W. Gallagher.

Edmund, the 13-year-old son of Editor P. W. Gallagher, of the Standard Free Press, met with a terrible death in The Tribune building yesterday afternoon.

With a younger brother, Casimir, he was spending the day with his father in the latter's office, which is on the ground floor of the Tribune building. The father sent Edmund with copy to the composing room on the second floor, and Casimir went with him. The younger boy thought to have a ride in the freight elevator, and ran into the basement and started it up. It moves very slowly, and as it was passing the first floor Edmund attempted to get on without waiting for it to be stopped, as is always done by those having occasion to use it.

Just what next happened is not clearly known, but it is supposed the boy tripped on the platform and fell the lower part of his body protruding through the doorway, and before he could either crawl onto the platform or drop back to the floor the elevator platform reached the top of the doorway and he was caught between the platform and the shaft.

The elevator continued upward for nearly a yard, crowding the unfortunate boy's body between the edge of the platform and the brick wall of the shaft, a space of only four inches. There it wedged and pinned the body against the wall. As the elevator continued upward the body wedged against the wall that it was necessary to dig out the brick-work for the space of half a square yard to remove it. Death was probably instantaneous, as the neck, back and arm were broken.

Mr. Gallagher was at work in his office, only twenty-five feet away, when the accident occurred. What grief he suffered when the calamity was disclosed to him, and while his boy's body was being extricated, is not for description.

Coroner Salty was hastily summoned and after viewing the body permitted its immediate removal to the family home, on South Webster avenue. An inquest will be held later.

A SOURCE OF REVENUE.

Money for Peddlers' Licenses Flowing Into City Treasury.

The city has derived a comparatively large amount of revenue in the last three months, from a source which never before was productive of any marked returns, because the ordinance regulating it was never strictly enforced.

Over $4,000 has been paid into the municipal treasury for peddlers' licenses, about three hundred of which have been issued. This sum as equivalent to the revenues collected in the last seven or eight years from peddlers' licenses, as the enforcement of the ordinance providing that all fruit peddlers and hucksters pay from $10 to $15 for a license was never very energetically attended to.

Several arrests have recently been made by Superintendent of Police L. B. Day, of peddlers carrying on a business without showing the required badge, which is given with every license. This has resulted in an overflow of fruit vendors in Director of Public Safety Wormser's office, which has kept Clerk Frank B. Reese constantly busy filling out the necessary permits. Fruit peddlers are charged $10 and $15 is charged for a wagon license. The same price is the rate for temporary stands. Only three licenses of the latter nature have been issued.

EDITOR LITTLE HELD IN BAIL.

M. W. Guernsey Claims He Will Institute Further Proceedings.

Editor Richard Little, of the Scrantonian, was held in $900 bail yesterday, on three criminal libel counts, preferred by M. W. Guernsey, J. B. McCall, business manager of the paper, who was also asked to be discharged. Mr. Guernsey declared his intention, at the hearing, of having Mr. Little arrested, on account of another article which appeared in Sunday's paper.

Yesterday's hearing was continued from Wednesday. The counsel for the defendant asked to be allowed to place on the stand witnesses who would endeavor to prove justification of the article in question, but as Alderman Kasson refused this, they declined to continue the case. Bail was furnished.

FAIRLY RAINED PENNIES.

Result of the Short-sightedness of a Country Postmaster.

Scranton is the depository of seven hundred fourth-class postoffices in this and ten adjoining or adjacent counties. One of these seven hundred offices is that situated at Travlers Summit, Bradford county. Every quarter these offices are required to transmit to the postmaster at Scranton the proceeds of the office, over and above the postmaster's commissions and allowances.

July 1 is the beginning of the third quarter, and the remittances are now coming in as fast as the postmasters can figure out their accounts and mail their remittances.

A penny-in-the-slot machine is one of the side-lines of the postmaster's store. The pennies accumulated on him and he resolved to get rid of them by sending them to the government notes in the quarter just closed, the office had a surplus of $26. He wrapped up 2,600 pennies in a paper package, enclosed the package in the regular mail pouch, hung it on its accustomed scaffold at the cashier station, and waited the coming of the mail.

The iron "arm" on the side of the mail pouch, struck the pouch at a speed of fifty miles an hour. The pouch wasn't made to stand out against the resistance of a solid package of 2,600 pennies against a momentum of fifty miles an hour, and as a consequence the package of pennies tore through the pouch, broke open and sent the pennies flying hither, thither and yon.

It fairly rained pennies until the train was out of sight. The postmaster, his wife, two sons and a daughter, and an ex-hired help spent two days hunting them up. They succeeded in recovering all except 696. The last pennies, the postmaster avers, represents more than the total earnings of the office for a quarter. Next time, he says, he will remit in greenbacks.

HOW MANY TIMES?

How many times when out of town for the summer have you groaned in spirit because the Philadelphia newspapers or the New York newspapers or the newspapers of the city nearest you, wherever it was, didn't tell you the things you wanted to know about Scranton? How many times have you seen items of news about Scranton in other newspapers which were incomplete and were an irritation and an exasperation to the soul? How many times have you or some member of your family said: "I wish to goodness there was something to read in this place on a day like this?" The Scranton Tribune will be sent to any address in the United States, Canada, Cuba or Mexico, postage paid, for 50 cents a month.

Tuffey was charged with having removed an iron cogwheel from what is known as the upper dam, and wantonly smashing it to pieces.

Charles W. Dorsey continued his excellent work yesterday in The Tribune's Educational Contest. He is in eleventh place this morning, having gone upward from fourteenth yesterday. This young man is showing what can be accomplished by ambition, energy and perseverance. He has made his way almost from the bottom of the list since July 1 and now is in a position which, if maintained until the close of the contest, puts him in line for a scholarship worth $400.

Miss Beatrice Harpur, of Thompson, also made an advance yesterday. She went from seventeenth to fifteenth place with only two points. Although there are seven young ladies in the contest who have scored, Miss Harpur seems to be the only one who can get away from the bottom of the list. There are twenty-seven scholarships open to young ladies, but few seem to realize the great benefits and advantages that are theirs if they will only try just a little bit.

Herbert Thompson, of Carbondale, added some more to his total and retained his position, seventh. J. A. Havenstrite, of Moscow, is again tied with Homer Kresge for thirteenth place.

The following is the standing of the ten contestants who have scored the largest number of points since July 1:
